DUBLIN, October 31.—Mr. Bright has arrived here, and was the recipient of a grand banquet. In a speech, he urged strongly the application of proper remedies to remove such grievances.

PARIS, October 31.—It is stated that Napoleon informed Carlotta to urge Maximilian to cede two of his provinces to the United States, in order to consolidate his rule in Mexico.

ROME, October 31.—The Pope has delivered an allocution, condemning the conduct of Italy, and declaring his readiness to die in defence of right, and if necessary, will seek a free exercise of his ministry in another land.

PARIS, November 1.—A decree has been issued, appointing commissioners for reorganizing the French army. Napoleon will preside over the commission.

LONDON, October 31.—The Turks claim great victories over the Christians in Candia. Large submissions were being made by the Christians to Turkish authority.

CONSOLS 89. Five-twenty six.

LIVERPOOL, October 31.—Sales, to-day, 13,000 bales cotton, at 14½ to 15d. for mid-land uplands.

LIVERPOOL, November 1.—Cotton market heavy; sales 8,000 bales.

News Items.

WASHINGTON, November 2.—Harlan, late Secretary of the Interior, this morning, publishes an elaborate reply to the statements heretofore made impugning his motives in the sale of the Cherokee neutral lands. He claims that his conduct was for the benefit of the Indians; and the reasons for it set aside the charge that it was for the benefit of individuals who desired the lands for speculative purposes.

BALTIMORE, November 2.—Gen. Grant returned to Washington last night. He had interviews with both the old and new boards of Commissioners.

There was a very large force on duty last night. Special policemen were sworn in, and the station houses strongly guarded. Beyond an assault on a policeman, there was no disturbance. The city is quiet to-day. The new Commissioners have not yet appeared, nor have they applied to be sworn in. Mayor Chapman refuses to recognize the new board.

LATER.—James Young and Wm. T. Valliam have been commissioned as the new Police Commissioners, and were sworn in before Judge Martin, of the Superior Court. There was no opposition thereto. The counsel for the Commissioners decided that they would offer no impediment to their taking the oath. The old force yet remains on duty, and the police stations are strongly guarded. All quiet, but much interest is manifested as to the result of the issue. Mr. Young is President of the Conservative City Convention.

WASHINGTON, November 2.—Sanford Conover, alias Charles A. Dunham, was arrested in New York yesterday, and brought to Washington to-day. He is charged, on the affidavit of Wm. H. Roberts, of having fraudulently procured Roberts to commit to memory a false statement before the House Committee on the Judiciary, as to matters implicated Jefferson Davis in the murder of President Lincoln. Conover, it will be recollected, gave several testimonies before the military commission on the trial of the assassination conspirators.

New York, October 2.—Col. Roberts has issued an address to the Fenians, calling on them to work and organize into regiments. Strange events, he says, are in the near future, and you know not how soon you may be called upon to strike for Ireland.

Four negroes, who murdered Mr. Lyles, in Prince George's County, Maryland, in July last, were executed to-day, in Upper Marlborough. They confessed their crime, and acknowledged having been implicated in several robberies in this vicinity, about the date of the murder.

NEW ORLEANS, October 2.—Rio Grande papers of the date say negotiations for the surrender of Maderas were progressing. Canales was willing to surrender to any but Cortina. Gen. Capistran, Col. Cerda and Col. Otero refuse to receive the gang of marauders degrading all along the American side of the Rio Grande. All that have been captured were shot or hung. Their leader, Col. Young, formerly chief of scouts for Sherman, was hung by the rancheros.

The Judicial Powers of the Freedmen's Bureau Declared Null.

The Louisville Courier, of the 21st ult., reports the following case:

The case of Smith vs. Reed was disposed of in the United States Circuit Court yesterday, and the action of the "Bureau" in connection therewith may be regarded as a concession, on their part, of the illegality of their would-be courts. The case was one involving the legality of the judicial powers claimed by the Bureau agents under the Freedmen's Bureau Act. Captain Reed, as agent of the Bureau at Cincinnati, had issued a judgment for $75 against Jonathan Smith, and issued an execution to enforce the judgment. His "officers" found Smith hauling wood with two horses—which were all he had—and took them from him by virtue of and in satisfaction of Captain Reed's "execution." Smith brought suit against Reed and others in the Harrison County Circuit Court, and recovered possession of the horses by a writ of replevin, after they had been gone about two days. Captain Reed, by petition, removed the case into the United States Circuit Court, to try the legality of his judgment and the validity of his process as superintendent.

Yesterday, the distinguished attorney, Hon. M. C. Johnson, of Lexington, appeared, to prosecute Smith's suit in the United States Court, but Captain Reed had received so little encouragement from the local fraternity that he attempted no defense whatever. Judgment was rendered against him for the horses, and damages and costs.

This default may be considered as a confession by the Freedmen's Bureau that the attempt of the Bureau Act to confer judicial power upon its agent was nugatory, and that the assumption and exercise, by those military judges, of the power to decide controversies concerning negroes, etc., was a pure usurpation.

The Freedmen's Bureau in other States has exercised like jurisdiction with that in Kentucky, and judgments were rendered and collected. If such proceedings were violative of law in Kentucky, they must be equally so elsewhere.

Startling Exposures.

The Washington correspondent of the New York Herald writes:

When President Johnson was on his late trip in the West, a United States Senator and two Major-Generals of the army, who belonged to his party, were approached at Indianapolis, by a prominent conservative Republican, who had been colonel of an Indiana regiment during the late war, and who is now a captain in the regular service, and who made the following startling statement: He had been making speeches for the Republicans in Indiana, in August last, and by request of Governor Fletcher, of Missouri, visited that State, and made one or two conservative speeches. He was told by Governor Fletcher that his speeches were too tame; that the most radical of declarations were wanted in Missouri; that the people must be told that the Republicans had decided that the rebels should not vote, and that the State was to be carried by force of arms if necessary. Governor Fletcher also told him that he had 30,000 muskets in the State in loyal hands, and that they should be used, if necessary, to carry the State. The Indian told Governor Fletcher that he was a Republican in principle, but did not approve of such measures, and would not advocate them. Governor Fletcher thought him merely weak-kneed, and answered him that he would come into the harness after awhile.

A few nights subsequently, he was present, on invitation, at a secret meeting of radical leaders, at the Linden Hotel. About fifty prominent radicals were present, including Governor Fletcher, of Missouri; Governor Gesler, of Illinois; and Senator Yates and John A. Logan, of Illinois. The whole plan of the impeachment of the President was discussed, even to the arrangement of filling Washington with an armed force of "Boys in Blue," to protect Congress, and also to decide who shall succeed Johnson in case Vice-President Foster, as his successor, should not prove equally positive and pliable to the wills of the Jacobins. Butler, Governor Morton, of Indiana, and others, were discussed. Butler was looked upon as lacking in courage, and Morton was feared as being too ambitious for the purposes of the conspirators. General Grant was mentioned as too conservative, and Sherman was scouted as a copperhead. Finally, Senator Yates was decided upon as possessing more stamina and less scruples than any other available man. If President Johnson offered serious resistance, and Foster did not act vigorously, Yates was to be put in control of affairs.

When he was about leaving St. Louis, the informant in the case was requested by Governor Fletcher to ask Governor Morton, of Indiana, what number of arms he could spare to Missouri. Governor Morton replied, when the message was delivered, that he could not say that he had any to spare; that there were about 100,000 arms in the arsenal, but would see what could be spared, and confer with Governor Fletcher. Out of this correspondence grew the conference of the Governors at Philadelphia, which, it is now well known, was for the purpose, among others, of distributing arms throughout the country. Outside of the statement of this officer, there is indubitable evidence in the hands of President Johnson of the secret distribution of large quantities of arms throughout the North, and, on various pretexts, all of which, however, are legal and plausible enough. While the startling character of the story causes it to be incredulously received by many, the character of the officer making the statement, the known desperate characters of the leaders implicated in the scheme, and much corroborative evidence received, cause it to be generally believed among the President's adherents.

Proclamation!

By His Excellency JAMES L. ORR, Governor and Commander-in-Chief in and over the State of South Carolina.

EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT, COLUMBIA, November 1, 1866.

WHEREAS the General Assembly of this State, by an Act passed on the twenty-first day of September, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and sixty-six, entitled "An Act for the funding of the interest and principal of certain stocks and bonds of the State past due," provided that immediate provision be made for funding the following debt of South Carolina, to wit: Three hundred and ten thousand dollars, now past due, as the principal of bonds of the State issued by virtue of an Act of the Legislature, passed in December, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and fifty-nine, together with the interest on said bonds; the interest on an issue of bonds to the amount of one million of dollars, under an Act of the Legislature, passed in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and fifty-four; and the interest on an issue of bonds to the amount of five hundred thousand dollars, issued under an Act passed in December, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and fifty-three, for the building of the new State House; likewise, the interest on one million seven hundred and seventy-five thousand and six hundred and six cents, stock, issued for the purpose of raising the new State House, under several Acts of the Legislature, passed in the years of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and fifty-six, fifty-seven, fifty-eight, fifty-nine, sixty and sixty-three—the said interest to be calculated as due up to the date of the first day of July, one thousand eight hundred and sixty-seven, without charging interest upon interest of any portion of the arrear of interest.

And whereas, in accordance with the provisions of said Act, bonds of this State have been prepared, of the amount of one hundred, five hundred and one thousand dollars, payable at the Treasury in Columbia—one-half on the first day of January, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and eighty-seven, and the other half on the first day of January, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and ninety-seven, with half yearly coupons for interest of six per cent. per annum, beginning to run from the first day of July, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and sixty-seven.

Now, know ye, that in obedience to the requirements of said Act, I, JAMES L. ORR, Governor and Commander-in-Chief as aforesaid, do hereby call on all holders of bonds issued under the Act of eighteen hundred and fifty-nine, now past due, and upon all persons holding coupons past due, and upon whom interest is due on the indebtedness above recited, to come forward and receive, at the Treasury of the State, in lieu of the existing evidences of indebtedness in their hands, the bonds hereinabove described—to the payment of which and the coupons attached, the funds and faith of the State are pledged.

Or, should the creditors of the State hereby called on so prefer, they may, upon presentation of their claims at the Treasury, receive in the stead of the bonds aforesaid, certificates of stock for the amount of the sums due them, respectively, redeemable at the Treasury, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and eighty-seven—bearing interest, payable half yearly, at the Treasury, at the rate of six per cent. per annum, on the first days of January and July of each year, until the debt be redeemed.

Exception will be made as to persons to whom interest is due upon bonds issued since the first day of January, one thousand eight hundred and sixty-seven. They are hereby called upon to furnish to the Treasurer a statement of the amounts due; and bonds will be issued to them hereafter, in accordance with such a scale as the General Assembly may prescribe.

Given under my hand and the great seal of the State, at the city of Columbia, the first day of November, 1866, and in the ninety-first year of the independence of the United States of America.

JAMES L. ORR, Governor of South Carolina.

Wm. R. HUNTER, Secretary of State.
